On May 7 he started north, accom-panied throughout his journey by Eivind Astrup, and as far as the Humbold! glacier by Dr. Cook and Langdon Gib-son. He marched north, and, passing the ends of Peterman and Sherard Os-born Fiards, he reached and determined the north boundary of the mainland of Greenland. Retracing their steps on August 6, by a happy coincidence they were met about seven miles in from the beginning of the ice cap by the relief expedition, which was sent out on a re-

The Sad Death of Verhoeff. Thus far everything had gone well with the expedition, but a few days after Lieutenant Peary's arrival John M. Verhoeff, the mineralogist, went off on a collection expedition. As he did not return at the appointed time, a search was instantly organized by the search was instantly organized by the Peary party, the relief party and nine Eskimos, to whom Lieutenant Peary offered large rewards in case they should find the missing man. For a week an anxions search was carried on day and Mr. Verhoeff's foot prints, leading up to a glacier, were found in the snow and mud at the glacier's edge. Near them was a little heap of stone that he had evidently piled up to take home with him on his return. A piece of string and a bit of paper bearing the letter "V" from the outside of a corned beef tin, lay near the stones, but of Mr. Verhoeff nothing has been seen, nor has careful scrutiny detected any evidence that he left the huge ice crevasses. It into one of them and perished. With the exception of this disaster the Peary party suffered no serious mishaps, and, indeed, few serious privations. They had plenty of food in the fall. They killed fifty-three reindeer, enough to keep them supplied with fresh meat throughout the winter. They had plenty of companionship, for they were con antly entertaining Eskimos, who came n relays during the whole year to visit them, making and testing sledges and clothing for the inland ice journey, and in taking scientific observations. Scurvy had not come nigh them nor any other disease, except a light form of grip in

Among the members of the party no one suffered much from the cold. Among those who have been entirely free from frost bites is Mrs. Peary. She has passed the winter quietly helping Lieu-tenant Peary form and adopt his plans, superintending the cooking and occasuperintending the cooking and occa-sionally helping in the preparation of the skin clothing. During Lieutenant Peary's recovery from the fracture of his leg and during his attack of the grip she nursed him devotedly. It is probable that but for her presence at his bedside certain most important preliminary excursions of the waters in the neighborhood of McCormick bay and on the inland ice must have been given up.

Valuable Results Achieved. Lieutenant Peary carried out his plans fully, made a great inland journey of 1,300 miles with Mr. Astrup, and, through the members of the party who remained at McCormick bay, made a irch collection of the flora, fauna and ethnology of North Greenland, Lesides which he demonstrated the ease and comfort with which a winter can be speat in the Arctic regions.

The relief expedition was equally fortunate. Not an essential plan projected by Professor Heilprin miscarried, and many things were accomplished which were not considered feasible before sailhat. Throughout the voyage no mis-hate occurred, and the collections made are probably unprecedented. They in-clude a complete collection of water and land mammals, both in skins and skeletons; a large variety of birds and submarine animal life; a large collection of flowering plants, lichens and insects and of ethnological specimens. The like probably has never been seen before except perhaps in the museum at Copenhagen. THE COOLEYS AGAIN.

More Nomination Papers Filed at the State Department.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 10. - Secretary Glenn, of the Republican state committee, has filed a large number of additional nomination papers at the state department, including Allegheny and Lackawanna. He says there are but a few districts to be heard from.

The nomination papers of Congress-man William McAleer, of the Third (Philadelphia) district, as made out by factional Democratic convention that nominated, were filed at the state department by Thomas McCully, but adudged defective, as they were not in-dorsed by the chairman of the Philadelphia county Democratic organization. Mr. McCully left the papers and said he would have the matter fixed.

THE READING TROUBLE.

Engineers Discharged Because They Belonged to the Brotherhood. PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 13.-James Dennison, general chairman of the engineers' nittee of the Raltimore and Ohi railroad system; C. A. Wilson, of the Pennsylvania system, and E. V. Vale, of the Lackawanna system, have just arrived in this city to confer with the chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, P. M. Arthur, and Chairman Clapp, of the grievance committee of 24 upon the Reading troubles and impending strike. It has just transpired that the presence of the grievance committee in this city is the result of the instant dismissal of William Schaeffer, of this city, an engineer in the employ of the company for twelve years on the New York division, for no other reason than his being a member of the Brotherhood. About the same time William Grake low, an engineer on the Blue line, and John Bowman, an engineer on the New York division, was discharged for the same reason by Superintendent Bansano.

Chief Arthur stated that his presence was the result of the discharge of three men. He conceded President McLeod the right to prescribe whatever terms he wished in the employment of new men. but thought it wrong to discharge old and competent men simply because they were members of the brotherhood. Gen eral Superintendent Sweigard offered Schaeffer to allow him to take out his engine at once if he would resign from the brotherhood, but the offer was refused. Chairman Clapp gave out the following statement of the position of

"We think that President McLeod intends to exterminate organized labor and all labor organizations. He said that he would not interfere with men on leased lines, but he also said that all new men applying or others now on any part of the system who might be discharged or even suspended for one day will compelled to sever his connection with any labor organizations before he can be employed. BELLEFONTE, Pa., Sept. 13.—The fight for legislative honors in Center county is overshadowing even the presidential contest. The battle is being fought en tirely on the fence law question. The men who will be elected to the legis-lature this fall will have to promise to do all in their power to have the ob-noxious law repealed. Professor John Hamilton, Republican, is the only can-didate who thus far has committed himself either way. He is out in a card to the voters favoring a local option fence law and pledging himself to do all he can to have such a law passed.

The Cepheus Was Twice Repulsed by the Cautious Fire Islanders-Men, Women and Children Floating Aimlessly About. Many Threats Made and Much Excitement-Governor Flower Is Emphatic.

FIRE ISLAND, N. Y., Sept. 13 .- The people here appear to have lost all sense of humanity. They have been appealed to in the name of God to permit the oldest women and youngest children to be taken to the hotel for the night, that their lives might be saved and have refused, with brutal jeers. Events since nightfall display a degree of cruelty. well nigh inconceivable. After the Cepheus came to anchor two police officers rowed to the landing and asked that a letter be taken to Dr. Wright. The mob refused to allow the letter to come ashore and drove the police officers off with threats. As it was getting dark and no satisfactory answer had arrived from the first boat a second boat put off from the steamer rowed by two police. In the stern stood a tall. gray-haired uran, Robert Thompson. As he approached the landing the mob gathered threateningly. He asked to be heard in behalf of the two hundred women and children on the steamer, who were suffering from hunger, exposure and exhaustion. After several minutes of insulting retorts by the mob he was allowed to speak. He said the men on the steamer did not ask to The young women would remain, if necessary, but the old women some of them grandmothers, and the children, suffering, not for comforts, but for decent care should be allowed to land. They would be returned to the steamship after a night's rest and one meal.

Attorney Williard P. Reid answere that if the captain of the steamer would come ashore the people for whom he spoke would consider the request.

Mr. Thompson returned to the steamer after saying that he would attempt to bring the captain back with him. It was dark, except for the light of the when the boat was seen pulling back to the landing again. When the spare figure was seen standing in the

"It is Senator McPherson, of New Jersey," called out Mr. Thompson, who was still in the stern. Senator McPherson stood silent for some moments looking "Citizens," said the senaat the mob. tor at last, "the captain declines to come ashore. If you will give me your injunction papers I will give you my word of honor I will give them to him and he will accept them as legally served.

Attorney Reid simply replied "that the captain must come ashore. If we can bring him ashore will you agree to let these suffering, innocent helpless people land?"

They cannot land," yelled the mob The senator turned his face up to the mob and in an impressive voice said: I appeal to you men in the name of God not to be longer led into heartless cruelty by this attorney, but to give your consent that these women and children can be taken from this boat.

"Where they have nothing to eat," continued the senator; "no place to sleep, where the common decencies of life cannot be longer observed, where their surroundings are foul from sea sickness -wait before you answer. Think what you will be doing. Remember your own wives and children. Be manly. Do not bring an everlasting disgrace upon your names; be men.

It did not seem as if human beings, capable of understanding the language in which they were being addressed, could withstand the appeal, but the crowd stood there, sullen and silent, while the lawyer said: "They cannot land. If we permit them we will give away our case.

They cannot land," the mob chimed Senator McPherson sank down in the boat overcome.

When the boat was rowed back to the steamship the newspaper men who had listened to this at once went to every member of the Islip health board who was present and begged that this horrible crime be not committed.

At 8:30 o'clock a meeting of the board was held and a resolution was passed that if Dr. Vought would go with Law yer Reid to the steamer and see that the injunction papers were served the board would allow food and blankets to be taken aboard. Dr. Vought was made to promise that if this was allowed no attempt would be made to land pas engers.

The excitement did not abate in the slightest degree after the Cepheus had withdrawn to the stream. The crowd remained on the dock muttering threats and swearing that the people on the excursion vessel could rot before they would be allowed to land.

This dispatch was received here at about 10:30 last night: Albert M. Darling, Sheriff, Suffolk county Guard the property of the state and sec that the hotel furnishes food to the passengers on the Cepheus. Summon all good citizens to aid you. Those passengers are in want of food. There is no dauger from cholera. The only danger is that they may be driven to dis-traction. Appeal to the manhood of the people; I know they will aid you, they are human. Plenty of relief will arrive tomor-

The Democratic View of the Tariff Discussed by Candidate Breen.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 13. - James W Breen, Democratic candidate for congress in the Twenty-second distric against John Dalzell, accepts the nomi nation in quite a lengthy letter. He states that whether his nomination shall be an "empty honor" or a further vind cation of the tariff principles indorsed by the "people" of the United States in three recent presidential elections re mains to be seen. In referring to the tariff question, which he does at length. Mr. Breen says:

If a high tariff was the unmixed bless that protectionists claim, if labor got a equitable share of that tariff there would be no tariff issue. He discusses the wage as labor question as it relates to the tariff as attempts to show that protection does no protect. The tariff, he holds, benefits only the millionaire, and asks the question why there are 72 tariff-made millionaires and multi-mill onaires and $5,000 idle men in this district Mr. Breen presents the Democratic view of the tariff in a very forcible manner.

Mrs. Harrison's Condition. LOON LAKE, N.Y., Sept. 12.-An unex pected complication has added itself to Mrs. Harrison's illness and her condition now is so grave that it will prevent the president being absent from the sick room. In consequence the trip through Northern and Central New York, which the president anticipated making, has been given up. Chairman Hackett, of the Republican state committee, was apprised of the facts by telegraph from Loon Lake this morning. Much solici-tude has been expressed at the sudden turn in Mrs. Harrison's condition. There was no business transacted by Mr. Har rison this morning. Mrs. Grant was guest at the cottage for a brief while and after dinner she and Mrs. Newman took the train and went as far south as the Champlain house, where they will spend the night.

New York, Sept. 14.—The supreme court, general term, Kings county, yesterday dissolved the injunction of Judge Barnard, prohibiting the use of Fire Island by the Normannia's passengers. As soon as Governor Flower heard of the vacation of the injunction he sent a dispatch to the captain of the Cepheus, telling him of the fact and ordering him to land his passengers at once. He also ordered the sheriff of Suffolk county to lend every aid in his power by enlisting law abiding citizens to assist in the landing of the Normannia's passengers.

A third dispatch was sent to the sheriff, saying that troops were already on the way to enforce power. 'The total military force of investment will equal a thousand men. This is the first time the naval reserve has been called out for active duty and they will be given an opportunity to show what they can do active militia.

Late in the afternoon the executive expressed himself as satisfied with the day's events. The special committee of the chamber of commerce appointed to co-operate with the health authorities in matters relating to quarantine met yes terday for the purpose of taking further steps in their self-imposed duty. A resolution was adopted in which the committee state that they deem it prudent to raise a fund of at least $250,000 to be placed at their disposal for use in case of need in the present emergency.

ON THE ISLAND.

The Normannia's Passengers Overjoyed to Step on Land Once More. NEW YORK, Sept. 14.-The cabin passengers of the Hamburg-American steamship Normannia, whose unenviable experience of the past few days has attracted to them widespread attention and sympathy, have at length reached a haven of rest and safety. Late yester-day, for the first time in many days, their feet touched mother earth and now they are quartered in the Surf Hotel on Fire Island, surrounded by all the comforts of a home and a cordon of soldiers, who will protect them from the attacks, the hoots and the jeers of the brutal residents of the bay shore. The landing was not effected without a great deal of trouble on the part of Governor Flower, Dr. Jenkins and those others who have jumped into the breach at this time of peril and anxiety. The governor was awake until all nours of the night devising means to relieve the unfortunate passengers of the Normannia from their hazardous position. best of legal advice was sought by him and the conclusion was reached that the injunction would not stand. Acting on this theory the governor ordered the naval reserves and several companies of the Sixty-ninth and Thirteenth regiments of state militia to go to Fire Island to queil the turbulent spirit which existed among the bay men, whose heartless action regarding the unfortu nate passengers had caused the people throughout the entire country to shudder. This action taken and the troops dispatched, the supreme court, general term, Kings county, was appeal to to dissolve the injunction obtined vesterday restraining the landing of the passengers. After argument pro and con the court promptly acceded to the ap-

The news was at once telegraphed to Fire Island and to those on board the Cepheus. It caused great joy to the anxious ones on the steamboat and corresponding consternation among the brutal residents of Islip, Babylon and other points nearby. The persons who had been "protecting their rights" changed their minds upon this subject in very short order and began leaving Fire Island in small boats for their homes on the shore. The piteous appeals of the unfortunate passengers could not move these sturdy clam diggers Monday night, but when they heard troops would soon be on the scene they moved from the island in a hurry and soon the place was comparatively deserted. The health officers and state officials then (2 p. m.) began preparations for the reception of the passengers on board the Cepheus.

When the news reached the quarantined passengers that the work of transferring was about to begin they crowded to the rail and gave one yell of happiness. It could have been heard for miles around. The band on the Cepheus struck up "Red, White and Blue," and the cheering kept up continuously for five minutes. It was a long roar of delight. When the shouts were answered by the reporters and health officers on the deck it was answered again and again by the people on board the

Dr. Voight ordered all deputies to go to the west of the Surf Hotel and drive all the people as far away as possible This was the first established quarantine of the day. The natives were not visi-ble. Most of them had not been seen rince noon, when they went home for dinner, and very few showed up again. It was a complete collapse of their stand nad ventured a shore when the Cepheus tried to make a landing Monday that the mob would have fallen back in disorder. It was only bluster and brag after all that kept them together, and when they saw that enough men were there to meet heir number they fell away like chaff before the wind.

The 497 passengers from the Cepheus were landed between 5 and 5:30 p. m. They were a happy and delighted lot. The chambermaids and French waiters of the Surf Hotel had American flags and waved them most vigorously while their prospective guests disembarked. The cheering was lusty and almost inessant, three cheers being proposed for Governor Flower and heartily responded to, and the band joining in the demonstrations of delight by playing most

The contagion of the spirit of good fellowship was everywhere evidenced, women embracing each other and men grasping each other's hands like comrades after

The correspondent says: "As I write, a portion of my body is alive with hundreds, aye thousands, of cholera microbes which have been taken from the dead bodies of cholera victims in Salgon, Asia, where the pest is ever present in its most virulent form." He will subject himself to still further innoculation

The Plague Decreasing in Russia.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 14.—The official returns continue to show a marked decrease of the cholera pestilence throughout Russia. The official figures for Saturday place the total number of new cholera cases in all Russia at 2,810 and the deaths at 1,326. Compared with a decrease of 2,844 new cases and 1,184 deaths. Yesterday 64 new cases and 2 deaths were reported in St. Petersburg an increase of 2 new cases and a decrease of 1 death compared with Sunday. The authorities, in view of the decrease of the epidemic, have concluded to issue only daily bulletins hereafter.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 14.-The strike at Shoenberger & Co.'s Sixteenth street mills has been lost, and the strikers will go back as individuals and submit to the terms dictated by the company. Yesterday a committee of three officially announced to their former employers that they would submit to their terms without condition and as indi-

It was quite a come down for the strikers, but not a surprise for the mill officials, or those acquainted with the real state of affairs at the Sixteenth street plant. The locked-out men at first announced their determination to win the fight, but in a few days there was a break, and quite a number of the strikers deserted their union. Owing to these desertions and the lack of sympathy from the Amalgamated headquarters the ranks of the Amalgamated men were several times verging on collapse. During the strike many of the old men have been replaced, and consequently those that go back will have to accept subordinate positions or none at all The decisive meeting was held in Excelsior Hall, at which the local lodges and Amalgamated officials were well represented. The meeting did not adjourn until late, but before the adjournment an unanimous and official decision was reached. The strike was declared off and a committee of three appointed to officially announce the same. The committee performed their duty yesterday and were received very courteously. No conditions of surrender or concessions were asked by the committee, and they were told that their men would have first chance for the positions now vacant, but none of those at present employed would be discharged. The Shoenberger mills will now be run independent of the Amalgamated association or unions except the machine The Amalgamated scale was shops. on July 1 for the iron d ments and had been running success fully until about a fortnight ago, when a disagreement occurred on a scale for the Bessemer department. ment was reached and the steel depart ment started non-union and the iron de partments went out in sympathy.

CONFLICT OF AUTHORITY.

Military Officers in Homestead Tired of Playing Second Fiddle. HOMESTEAD, Pa., Sept. 14 .- A new phase in the trouble existing here has developed that promises to lead to an estranged situation unless some definite understanding is reached between the parties at issue.

It is not, however, a matter between the locked-out men and those who have taken their places in the Carnegie mill, but rather between the state and county authorities who are entrusted with the preservation of the peace of the community. For some time back there has been a spirit of conflict between the military authorities and the sheriff of Allegheny county regarding their respective jurisdiction in the present trouble. The military authorities here contend they have been playing second fiddle to the sheriff's representatives and have grown tired of the anomalous posithey have been forced to occupy: It is claimed by them if they are here simply to support the sheriff in the discharge of his duties without any discretionary powers on their part, there is no absolute need for them, and that the sheriff should take full responsibility for the proper administration of his office and see that peace is preserved. It is purely a question between the civil and military authorities and resolves itself into the respective obligation one holds to the other.

There has been no disturbance here and everything is moving along promptly. At the mill office a number of men were awaiting employment. Sixteen of a batch of probably fifty were selected and sent into the mill. None of them, however, were former employes of the company.

ALL AMICABLY SETTLED.

McLeod Reinstates Engineer Schaffer and Enters Into an Agreement.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 14 .- There will be no strike on the Reading system. At the conference yesterday all matters were amicably adjusted. Twenty-five committeemen, with chief Arthur as their spokesman, conferred with President McLeod and General Manager Sweigard in the Reading's general of Lees from 2 until 2.45 o'clock and the meeting was harmonious throughout. When it was ascertained that Engineer William Schaffer, of the Philadelphia and Reading railroad, who was dis-charged for belonging to the brother-hood, had not signed a contract to renounce labor organizations President McLeod ordered that he be reinstated. Engineers John Bowman and Williams Grakelam, of the same line, however, will not be reinstated, for they violated their signed agreement with the com-pany by joining the organization. Presi-dent McLeod assured the employes of the leased lines that they would not be disturbed, and as the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers has not been recognized on the main line for several years the apprehensions of the leased ines men were soon dispelled. Mem-bership in the Reading Relief association on the leased lines will be optional with the employes and they can join what labor organizations they please. The main line employes, however, must abide by the old rules. Chief Arthur and the other delegates left last night
